Parents have a huge role in their children's education. Please share the "Habits of Successful Students" with your children. Make a plan with them and review it weekly.

I might have published this same article last year, but I feel we need a refresher course each beginning of the new year. Please share this with your children. Post it on the refrigerator!

Habits of Successful Students

- 1. Get Organized. Making a plan for what you're going to do and when you're going to do it will make sure you're always ahead of the curve - literally.
- 2. Don't multitask. Studies have shown that multitasking is physically impossible.
- 3. Divide it up. Studying isn't fun to begin with, and forcing yourself through a study marathon will only make it worse. Dividing your work into manageable chunks and rewarding yourself when you finish each chunk will make studying (more) fun.
- 4. Sleep. Don't underestimate the importance of those eight hours of zzz's every night. Getting a good night's rest will sharpen your focus and improve your working memory.
- 5. Set a schedule. Do you work better right after school or after you've eaten dinner? Are you more productive in a 90-minute block or in half-hour spurts? Find a schedule that works for you, and stick to it.
- 6. Take notes. Taking notes will only keep you more engaged during class, but will also help you narrow what you need to study when exam time rolls around. It's much easier to reread your notes than to reread your entire textbook.
- 7. Study. This one might be obvious, but did you know that there's a right and a wrong way to study? Review your materials several days ahead of time, in small chunks, and in different manners (for example, write flashcards one day and take practice tests the next). In other words, don't cram.
- 8. Manage your study space. Find a place that will maximize your productivity. Look for places away from the television and other distractions. Whether it's your local library or just the desk in your bedroom, set aside a study space that you'll want to spend time in.
- 9. Find a study group. Sitting down with a group of people who are learning the same thing as you is a great way to go over confusing class material or prepare for a big test. You can quiz each other, reteach the material, and make sure that everyone is on the same page. After all, teaching someone else is the best way to learn.
- 10. Ask Questions. You're in school to learn, so don't be afraid to do just that! Asking help - from a teacher, a tutor or your friends - is a surefire way to make sure you truly understand the material.

My sincere thanks to the PTL, especially Jamie Diemel for putting together a wonderful Run For Education Event. This is our biggest fundraiser, so be sure to reach out to relatives and friends and thank them for donating to our school.

Blessings,

Mr. Landgrave

KELLY LEITZKE!

Your name was drawn from the Race for Education Stamp Donations that were brought in. You will receive a $25 Scrip card of your choice!

Thank you to everyone who donated stamps or money to help mail out our Race for Education letters.

September Chapel Offerings: Offerings will be designated for a family at St. Paul that experienced a loss and could use a little extra assistance. Please consider sending offerings with your children to our weekly Wednesday chapel services.

Let us not become conceited, provoking, and envying each other. -Galatians 5:26

Student-Athlete grade checks started today. Please check in with your student-athlete to see if they received a notice today. Student-athletes that received notice are ineligible through Friday, September 22. These athletes are expected to attend practice and games but are not allowed to suit up for either.

If there are any students interested in singing the National Anthem at home sporting events, please contact Mr. Mo.

FREE Clothing Swap at Bonduel Elementary!

Clothes need to be sorted by size/gender. For example, Mens size medium in one bag, Girls size 2T in a separate bag.

Adult sizes are welcomed! We encourage all sizes to be available at the Free Clothing Swap.

If you wish to attend the Free Clothing Swap without donating anything, GREAT! We have plenty of clothes donated each year.
